BLUE & GOLD

"My message to you is, be courageous. I have lived a long time. I have seen history repeat itself again and again. I have seen many depressions and wars. Always America has come out stronger and more prosperous. Be as brave as your fathers before you. Have faith. Go forward."

1847 Centennial 1947

We, the Class of 1917, dedicate this book to Thomas A. Edison

who, as a boy, had an insatiable thirst for knowledge . . .

EDISON AT FOURTEEN

who, as a man, gave us the many conveniences that we consider commonplace.

His life is proof that in America a humble beginning is no deterrent to success.

EDISON AT EIGHTY-ONE

Supt. Paul V. Brown and the daughter of Thomas Alva Edison, Mrs. Madelaine Edison Sloane, taken in the living room of the Edison birthplace, Milan, Ohio, on February 11, 1947, during the 100th Anniversary celebration.

Milan, Ohio

February 11, 1947

To the Students of Tiffin Columbian High School:

I have been asked by your superintendent, Mr. Paul V. Brown, to send to you my greetings from Milan, Ohio, on this, the 100th anniversary of the birth of my father, Thomas Alva Edison.

I am happy to do this, especially since I have been told of the theme of your 1947 yearbook. It is nice to know that you are using Thomas A. Edison as such a theme.

My very best wishes to you from this, the birthplace of my father. As he lived a life of service to his fellowmen, I am wishing for you something of the same ideal. May you remember that doing for others is what counts most in life, after all.

Thank you for this opportunity to greet you, and I send you my every good wish.

Madelaine Edison Sloane,

Edison's Home

A tiny, red-brick cottage on the edge of a broad, wooded ravine at Milan, Ohio, has taken its place among the historic shrines which commemorate great Americans. It is the 100-year-old birthplace of Thomas Alva Edison, the Ohio genius who invented the electric light, the phonograph, the moving and talking picture, and many other marvels we take for granted today.

Thirty acres of adjacent ravine, through which runs the Huron River, have been purchased by Mrs. Edison and will in time become a memorial park to her husband, who died in 1931 at the age of 84. The land is pastoral and quiet today, but 100 years ago it rang with pounding and sawing, for Milan then was the second largest grain port in the world, with six shipyards and sixteen grain warehouses along a canal teeming with trade. Imports and exports totaled more than $1,500,000 a year.

Here the boy Edison lived the first seven years of his life, before his family moved to Port Huron, Michigan. Through the century, the old home, occupied by relatives, underwent many changes. Eighteen months ago Mrs. Edison commissioned an old friend of the family to restore the birthplace. Soon the only modern traces will be the electric lights and the oil furnace.

Our Home

The earliest classes to be graduated from Tiffin High School, those from 1859 to 1868, held their commencement programs in the high-school room on the third floor of Monroe Street School. At that time the women teachers received $30 a month salary, while the salary of the men was $35, and the superintendent received $100.

The Monroe building continued to be the seat of secondary learning until 1893 when the Columbian High School building was completed at a cost of $75,000. The school name was selected because of the World's Columbian Exposition held in Chicago that year. General W. H. Gibson was the orator of the day when the cornerstone was laid. Tiffin at that time had 10,801 inhabitants.

Commencement exercises were held in National Hall from 1869 to 1907, when they were transferred to the Grand Theater. After the erection of Junior High School in 1924, programs of the graduating classes were held in that auditorium, with a seating capacity of 1200.

An addition to the Columbian building was completed in 1933. The Columbian auditorium, with a seating capacity of 650, is the scene of present commencement activities. The alumni roster of Tiffin High School has 4,610 names.

Edison Chronology

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 1847 February 11—Born at Milan, Ohio, son of Samuel and Nancy Elliott Edison.  | 1891 Applied for patent on motion-picture camera.  |
| 1868 Patented first invention, the electrical vote recorder.   | 1896 Experimented with X-ray. Developed fluoroscope, dedicated to public domain.   |
| 1875 November 22—Discovered electrical phenomenon which he called "etheric force," later recognized as due to electric waves in free space; is foundation of wireless. | 1896 May 16—Applied for patent on first fluorescent electric lamp.   |
| 1876 April—Moved to laboratory at Menlo Park, his first laboratory for organized research.   | 1914 Patented miner's electric safety lantern.   |
| 1877 August 12—Invented phonograph.  | 1928 October 20—Presented with Congressional Medal of Honor.   |
| 1879 Invented first practical incandescent electric lamp. Invention perfected October 21, 1879, when lamp maintained incandescence for forty hours.                    | 1931 October 18—Died at Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. ## Record 1. Light for All

Thomas Edison holds his first lamp in one hand as he stands beside a giant electric bulb

We are likely to think of Edison first as the inventor of electric light. It is true that 80% of the 1,097 patents issued to him dealt with electric lighting and power distribution.

His inventions in the field of communications have done more to abolish ignorance than those of any other man.

Moreover, Edison did more to abolish poverty than any group of persons since the beginning of the world.

Administration and Faculty

Today the modern fluorescent light occupies the center of the stage

A few years ago the writer had the extremely rare privilege of having an informal interview with Mr. Thomas A. Edison at his winter home and estate along the Caloosahatchee River at Fort Meyers, Florida. Along with a group of Tiffin people wintering in Florida, we stopped at the Edison home and were first conducted through the groves and the horticultural gardens, after which we were introduced to Mr. Edison in his laboratory. Being from Ohio, we were warmly welcomed and together enjoyed an informal chat for nearly a half-hour. At the time of our visit, Mr. Edison was working on the development of rubber from the gum of some native Florida trees.

We found Mr. Edison to be a delightful conversationalist, a keen thinker and observer, and a man of pleasing personality, having a keen sense of humor. The half-hour spent with Mr. Edison I consider to be one of the high lights of a lifetime.

The Board of Education

Earl Knapp, Earl Kern, clerk-treasurer, C. A. Riggs, president, Wm. McKinney, vice president, Harry W. Frick, Francis F. Kuhn

We present herewith the members of the Board of Education of the City School District. The five members are elected by the people to carry on the business of the schools. They include a clerk-treasurer, and the administrative, teaching, custodial, and other staff members.

Members of the Board of Education serve without pay. Meetings are held monthly on the first Monday of each month at 7:30 P.M., plus any called or special meetings which may be required.

Since there is no alternate employment of members of the Board, it is a body of public servants who are dedicated to the progress and development of our children. We salute the study and jurisdiction of this hard-working body of public servants.

We salute them!

It is a pleasure to greet you who are students of Columbian High School in this Thomas Edison edition of the Blue and Gold. For each of you I wish a bright and happy future

One way to insure such a future is to emulate the devotion to improving the lot of his fellowmen which this great inventor, Thomas Edison, manifested throughout his long and useful lifetime. Make life easier for your fellows, and, strangely enough, your own ease and happiness will follow as a rich and valuable dividend

Paul N. Brown

Superintendent of Schools

The fullness of life which we enjoy so much has been made possible by our benefactors. Of these, Thomas A. Edison is one of the greatest. He is our slave. He is at our service morning, noon, and night; at home and abroad; in the field and in the factory; on land and sea; in the air and in the depths. His presence is thrust upon us at every turn. May we humbly recognize and honor his presence

Record 2. The Birth of the Incandescent Lamp

The photograph shows Edison testing the first practical incandescent lamp. He had a filament of carbonized cotton thread in the glass bulb. As Edison watched it burn for forty hours, he concluded he could make a lamp that would last a great deal longer.

He was the first of the scientists who followed him to make the lamp a reality.

Columbian Students

As a boy and as a man, Edison had a broad curiosity, a deep desire to find the answers to the mysteries of science. As a result, he invented electric devices, motion pictures, the phonograph, and hundreds of other aids to modern living.

Among the many students, past and present, of Columbian High School, there surely must be some individual who will go far in the field of science, due to his endless curiosity.

Miss Dietzel, Mrs. Ewing, Mr. Bailey

We, as seniors, have reached our ultimate goal—graduation, but we are reluctant to surrender the privilege of this year to the days of yore. When we have departed we will cherish the memories of our fellow students and the teachers at Columbian.

We have had a year of many things, some of which we can only remember by looking back at the year in which we have lived. We have had many athletic ratings, and others in the field of athletics.

All through the three years here we have had many things to remember, and we have had many things to look back on. We have had many things to look back on, and we have had many things to look back on.

We have all gained the priceless jewel of friendship. We go out from our alma mater wealthy with the knowledge of the people who have helped us, and we will always look back at Columbian.

Record 3. Edison's Favorite Invention

Although no musician himself, Edison did more than the greatest artists to bring music into our lives. Few illustrations of the democratizing effect of invention are better than music for everyone, as given us by phonograph, radio, and movie.

Edison's "talking machine" was his most original and favorite invention. Here he poses with his first model and his "business phonograph," one of its later refinements.

Activities

Edison once remarked, "Say, I have been mixed up in a whole lot of things, haven't I?"

As his interests were varied, so are the activities of pupils in high school today.

Every person benefits by participation in the extra-curricular activities of the school. Abilities are developed; new interests are promoted; friendships are strengthened.

However, a proper balance must be maintained between time spent in classroom work and that spent in outside activities, so that a well-rounded life may result.

Edison's favorite song—"I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen"

Record 4. Edison and Steinmetz

No inventor is independent of the work of others. This was true in regard to the relationship between Edison and Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz. The two met when Edison visited the Schenectady works of the General Electric Company. At that time Dr. Steinmetz was experimenting with his lightning generator. Upon seeing the machine, Edison became interested, and he and Dr. Steinmetz worked together on the machine. The remainder of their lives was spent collaborating in the fields of science and mathematics.

Athletics

I can make a lot of work out of it, and I don't do it sports today. When you get a sport, you get a very hard, and a test to you, and it's a hard work toward a great goal.

There is no one who sports, but also with a very etc.

Football

Coach Steele gave his all so that others could enjoy the wonderful game of football. He taught the team how to win games. Good sportsmanship, the will to carry on when the going gets tough, quick thinking, and good habits are only a few of the good traits that the members of the team acquired through the untiring efforts of the coach. In the future these lessons will be of great value. The team appreciates all that the coach did for them.

Football

Nick's untiring efforts night after night helping to form a team as well as character of the players goes unrewarded. He did much to raise the spirit of the team when the going seemed tough. The physical fitness of the team came only through the able leadership of Mr. Mazzaferro. The team looks up to him as one who is a swell guy and a builder of character.

RESERVE FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Dutt, Ted Spidel, Bill Hostler, Carl Warren, Coach Seale
log Smith, Fred Johnston

HONFORD TALBERT

Hon, co-captain of the team, never failed to put the ball where it was needed. He was rewarded for his fine playing by being elected All Buckeye center, and he received honorable mention in the state.

JAMES HILBORN

Big Jim was a stellar tackle who had a tendency to break up opposition plays and throw them for a loss. He was honored with third team All Buckeye tackle.

BILL BROWN

Bill was an all-around fullback. Whenever a first down or a punt laid in coffin corner was needed, it was Bill who came through. He was elected co-holder of "most valuable player," and he placed on the All Buckeye second team.

ROBERT BRIAN

Bob's tricky running and good defensive work was a great help to the team this year. The tougher the game, the harder this aggressive halfback fought.

JAMES MILLER

Jim's fast running and passing helped much to put the pig skin into pay dirt. For his fine spirit and stellar playing he was elected co-holder of "most valuable player" and All Buckeye third halfback.

MILTON MCKEITH

Pete," a tough and rough tackle, stopped many enemy plays cold. He was elected co-captain of the team. His stellar playing won him honors of second team All Buckeye tackle.

ROGER HUTHEN

Buzzy" proved that good things come in small packages, catching passes for long gains was his speciality. He was a small but mighty end.

GLEN RITZENTHAUER

Glen's speed and broken field running could not be duplicated. The team suffered a great loss when Glen was injured early in the season and spent the remainder of the season on the sick lines.

RAYMOND STAH

Ray, a quick thinker with lots of speed, was a great help to the team as guard. He was the fifth man in the opponents' backfield.

MAURICE LENZ

Morry was a powerhouse at fullback with weight to back him up. Only a junior, he will be the spark plug of next year's team.

BILL HARNISCHFEGGER

Harney, the biggest man on the team, gave the team much valuable help at tackle. His fine spirit was a great help.

JAMES FECHER

Jim's fast charge and bag of tricks was always a headache to the enemy. This guard opened up holes through the defenses' line.

JEAN RILEY

Jean spear headed many line plays as blocking back. His strong Irish spirit carried the team through many a tight game.

GILBERT BINTZ

"Zeke," with a low, fast charge, broke up many line plays. His determination and love for the game was an asset to him at guard.

ROBERT HILL

Robert Hill is a tough player who is always ready to take on the enemy at end. He lives up to his nickname

RICHARD TURNER

Richard Turner is a tough player who is always ready to take on the enemy at end. His courage and spirit made him one of the toughest players on

PAUL HARRISON

Paul gave the team much support with his fast ball running. You will hear much of him

Basketball

Coach Burkett taught the team not only how to play basketball but also good sportsmanship, quick-thinking, and many other good characteristics. The season this year was not one of the best, but it was no fault of the coach. The team will never forget what the coach did for them.

TOM COMPANY

Tom, only a junior, gave the team much support. His shooting, guarding, and ball handling improved with every game. Next year Tom will be one of the leading players on the team.

RAYMOND STAHL

Ray, a senior, was one of the hardest workers on the team. He was an all-around good player but especially good on rebounds. Ray's good sportsmanship and untiring efforts were a great aid to the team.

PAUL HARRISON

Paul, a junior, was a fast ball handler. His good defensive work and untiring efforts were a great help to the team. Keep your eyes on Paul, next year you will see many points racked up by him.

OLEN BARE

Olen, a junior, was the tallest man on the team. He used his height to good advantage. His valuable backboard work led to many points. Next year he will be a valuable man to the team as he was this year.

ELIAN RILEY

Pat, a senior, was a player as well as a good-natured Irishman. His determination and good defensive work proved a great asset to the team. He never let down.

BONFORD TALBERT

Bon, a senior, could always be counted on to rack up points. As a defensive player he was one of the best. Bon more than earned the honor of being elected on the All Buckeye second team.

ROGER HUTHIEN

"Bozz," a senior, was very alert and fast. What he lacked in size he made up in speed. Being the spark plug of the team, he was elected captain. Also he received the honor of being elected to the All Buckeye third team.

BOB WALL

"Buck," a senior, was a good ball handler and a good defensive player. His one-handed long shot helped make the score rise. Buck's love for the game and good ball handling were a help to the team.

WAYNE MOORE

"Shorty," a senior, was a fast and tricky player. His alert playing and good spirit helped the team through many a tough spot. What he lacked in height, he made up in good playing.

CLARENCE KAHLER Manager

Track

The track season of 1947 opened with sessions in the gym. In these sessions conditioning was stressed with calisthenics, rope climbing, and much running. Skull sessions were held, when the coach taught the fundamentals of the different events. After two weeks in the gym the weather moderated, and it was possible to hold practice at the stadium.

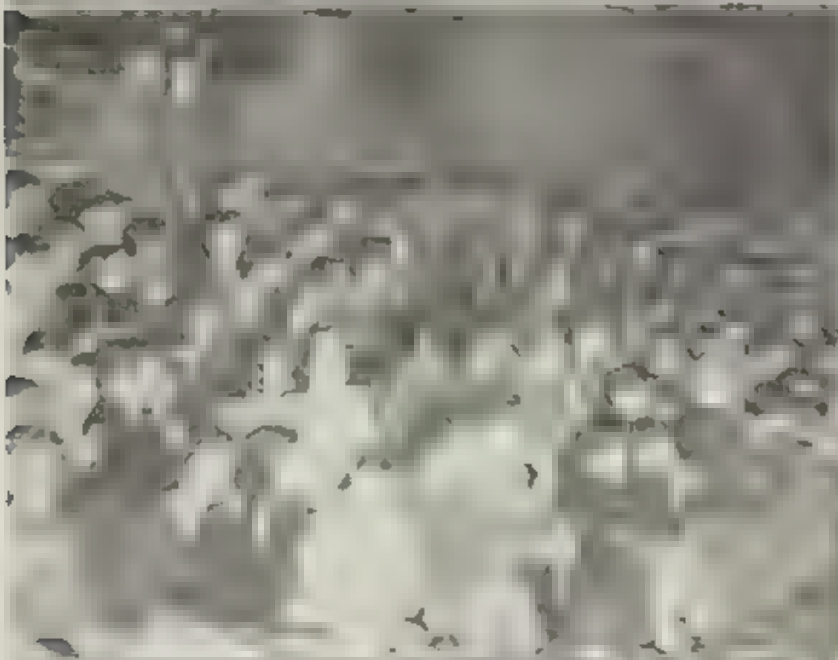

The track team this year should have a good season since it is about the same team that Columbian had last year. With much experience in such promising track stars as Hill, last year's captain, Ritzenthaler, a dash man, Brian, a hurdler, Moore and Riley, pole vaulters, and Talbert and Morrison, fine runners, this year's team will give any team a tough time. Due to the fact that this book goes to press before meets are held, it is impossible to give track meet scores.

Girls' Gym

The girls' gym activities are well directed by our teacher, Miss Haberman. Besides giving us a thorough knowledge and practice in many games such as volley ball, baseball, and deck tennis, she has set a fine example of skill and sportsmanship for each of us to follow. Our thanks to her!

MARILYN STONI

A group of students and their coaches was posed to represent Fremont in the annual basketball game played at Fremont. Mary Decker was the center for the home team. Mary Jo Smith, Barbara Lee, Sheila Kelley, Gertrude Green and Elmer Wheeler. The other players were Kathryn Paine and Linda. In addition to these, several volleyball and deck tennis matches were enjoyed. At noon a luncheon was served by the Fremont G. A. A. in the school cafeteria.

Record 5. Edison's First Laboratory

When twelve years of age, Edison went to work as a candy butcher and newsboy on a Grand Trunk Railroad train running between Port Huron, Michigan, and Detroit. In the baggage car of this train, he set up a small chemical laboratory and also a printing press, on which he printed his own newspaper.

Junior High

In March the manual-training classes at Junior High School built miniature cars and sponsored midget automobile races. The greatest speed attained was eighty-five miles per hour.

This project is one of the many which are preparing young boys and girls for careers in the fields of science.

Record 6. Optimism and Humor

It seems very fitting to have a picture showing the features of Edison's face at the beginning of our features section. Even though Mr. Edison spent long hours in study and scientific research, he still had time to enjoy the lighter side of life.

Features

Our features section is a conglomerate of various types of material—some facts, some humor, some original writings

A stamp commemorating the one-hundredth anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Alva Edison was put on sale at Milan, Ohio, February 11, 1947. The stamp is the regulation size with a picture of Edison and a rectangular panel with a monogram of a cogwheel, uplifted wings, and lightning flash as symbols of power, flight, and electricity. Millions of requests were received at Milan for cancellation of the stamp on the first day of issue

Tiffin has one of the finest examples of early Edisoniana, in the chandelier which has illuminated the main auditorium of St. Paul's Methodist Church since 1885. The church was one of the first buildings in the country to be wired for electricity

The chandelier was a gift to the church from Mr Edison and the stockholders of the Tiffin Electric Light Company at the time the church was built. Its present value as a lighting fixture is limited; its value as a relic of the age of Edison, priceless

MUSIC

Like the sunrise, ending the gloomy night
 Music enters our lives, a shaft of light
 It plants itself and grows, defying fate,
 It stays beside us always, excluding hate
 And bringing peace and fellowship to those
 Who seek it and in its bowers repose
 Music calls us to great deeds, to acts sublime
 It stays with us forever, a monument to time
 It makes us dream again, think on things fair
 Life is worthwhile if there is music there

IOANNE MITCHELL

THE OBSTINATE SPRING

The Calendar's proclaiming,
In staid and stolid tones,
That spring has long been budding
From out of winter's cones

But lo, the skies are misty
With either snow or rain
Old folks still find it risky
Without their trusty cane

The wind still goes a-roaring
Around the corners, too'
We've lost all hope of storing Old clothes for others new

Thus story happens yearly
To try our patience all,
And when we give up wearily,
Dear spring then makes her call'

MARIE COOK

SIGNS OF SPRING

Have you seen the flowers blooming
Near the garden gate today,
And the water of the brooklet
O'er the smooth-worn pebbles play?

Did you notice Robin Red-breast
As he hurried to and fro,
Bringing bits of string and grasses
For his little nest, you know?

Snow has melted from the meadow,
And no more the season's drear
Nature's wakened every creature
Winter's over. Spring is here!

DOROTHY REE

THOUGHTS AT NIGHT

The sky was blue; the clouds were gray;
The night was fast replacing day
I sat and watched the sky grow dark
All Nature, too, there in the park
Had seen the exit of the sun
With clouds enclosed
The day was done

The moon arose a silver globe—
The wispy clouds her lucid robe
Love now did take her evening walk,
The time was past for useless talk,
All birds and beasts were now quite dumb
Their sleepy chirps
Showed night had come.

Peace now had conquered all the world,
Her pure, white flag o'er all unfurled.
O would the world forget all spite,
Replace all sin with Truth and Right,
Men could forever their neighbors love
And live in peace
As those above

JERRI JENNINGS

SPRING—APRIL, 1947

The gloomy sky is overcast with grey
The wailing wind suggests rain or snow
The robin's song is still and quiet
Is this spring?

The sunny sky is bright with sunlight
The searching wind is soft
and happy
The robin's song is strong
and happy
In its beauty

PAT TOFFER

THE ARTIST

He holds a brush deftly in his hand
Before him stands an easel with a canvas on it
At first, bold marks he makes, and then
He tempers them with lighter, softer strokes
And makes a picture of enduring beauty
For all who gaze upon it

A youth stands in the sunlight
His life is a blank canvas before him
Upon which he makes bold strokes
Of deeds that lead to fame
With a brush called Opportunity,
He then softens the picture
With love, benevolence, and age
And creates a life that rivals
The finest oil masterpiece
In its beauty

JOANNE MITCHELL

MAGIC NIGHT

The night is frosty, clear and cold,
The heavens are lit up bright,
The moon holds mystical powers
For this is a magical night

The snow creaks beneath my feet
As I walk along my way
A breeze blows gently through the trees
And makes them swing and sway

The air is sweet, so very sweet,
The night is very soft
The Northern lights streak in the sky
And light the night aloft

FOR FUTURE REFERENCE

Picture yourself when you're getting older,
 And the foot is on the other shoe
 Don't say the kids are getting bolder,
 Remember, you were young once, too

Some day when you're a family man,
 And your children won't listen to you,
 Don't feel too bad—and if you can,
 Remember you were young once, too

If your children get in late some night,
 And you wonder what you should do,
 Just laugh it off and say it's all right
 Remember you were young once, too

Don't be too strict; don't preach or shout
 If some small matter bothers you
 It's nothing to get excited about
 Remember you were young once, too

RITA TURNER

IMPROVEMENTS WE DREAM OF AT COLUMBIAN

- oda fountain in tower room
- easy chairs in corridors for lovers
- powder rooms for senior girls
- "coke" machines instead of drinking fountains
- escalators instead of steps
- hamburgers served in 21, sixth period (then "Shorty" Moore won't have to sneak over to the Whitehouse)
- ping pong, dancing, etc., in gym during "free" periods
- swimming pool for gym classes
- more reducing machines and hair dryers in girls' locker room
- free access to home ec refrigerator
- school take up at 10:00 A.M.
- etiquette class for all boys
- dormitory for sleepyheads
- no Monday morning classes
- more pep and school spirit
- class to teach fellows how to keep hair neat and clean without a lot of "glop" on it
- girls dress feminine for a change
- Richard opening the door

Jokes

Boss: "Bob, you have broken more dishes than your salary can pay for. What can be done about it?"

Bob Kirchner: "Oh! I don't know, unless you raise my salary."

Bill Brown: "It says here that teachers are often decorated in France."

Jr. Eikenbary: "I feel like crowning the ones we got."

Jim Elchert: "Mr. Bailey, what do you advise me to read after graduating?"

Mr. Bailey: "The help-wanted column."

Miss Herron: "Merlyn, what is a synonym?"

Merlyn Ranker: "It's a word you use in place of another when you can't spell the other one."

Mr. Bailey: "Hulthen, what does HNO<sub>3</sub> signify?"

Roger Hulthen: "Well, ah, err, I've got it right on the tip of my tongue."

Mr. Bailey: "You better spit it out, it's nitric acid."

Bob Brian (looking at his grade card): "Well, I'm as famous as Washington now."

Marilyn Mohler: "How do you figure that?"

Bob Brian: "I went down in history."

Mr. Lutz: "You can't sleep in my class."

Robert Strecker: "If you wouldn't talk so loud, I could."

Miss Herron: "Nobody ever heard of a sentence"

"A sentence is a sentence."

Mr. Elchert: "I have."

Miss Herron: "What way?"

Mr. Elchert: "Go away."

Ben Marriott: "She sure gave you a dirty look."

Arthur Lynch: "Who?"

Harry Marriott: "Mother Nature."

Duane Mohr: "I don't feel well; I can't go to class today."

Robin Turner: "Where don't you feel well?"

D. Mohr: "In class."

Freshman: "Please, mama, let me go out tonight."

Sophomore: "May I go out tonight? The show is over at ten."

Junior: "I'm going out tonight, Dad."

Senior: "Good night, folks, I'll bring in the milk."

Beginner's Luck

● The girl who starts in telephone work finds real beginner's luck.

She learns her job pleasantly with other beginners just like herself—possibly from her own school. She works in light, airy offices with the latest in equipment. She relaxes in beautiful lounges with friendly co-workers.

She takes home a good-sized weekly paycheck which she knows will increase steadily through scheduled raises. Her supervisors are congenial and understanding. They reached supervisory levels from beginning jobs just like hers. Promotions are made from within the ranks and today's greatly increased traffic has speeded up these promotions.

The telephone beginner strikes it lucky because she has chosen a company which earned its reputation for being "a good place to work".
